2 Introduction

2 Introduction

In the Resource Editor module of the application System Configuration you can edit the texts of the interface.

This refers to all text content of the interface: column titles, tabs, window titles, tooltips, etc.

This function comes in handy if you would like to make minor adjustments in the textual design of the interface. If you have the corresponding license for the Resource Editor module you can make the adjustments yourself.

Open the Resource Editor module by clicking on the menu item More in the navigation bar and subsequently on the submenu item Resource Editor.

All manuals provided by ASC refer to the original interface texts. Thus keep in mind that interfaces which have been customized will no longer coincide with the figures and interface texts in the manuals.

In the main view, the resource strings are displayed as follows.

Resource	Context	Default Content	German	French
tooltipSysMonitorJobMonitorResumeJob	Tooltip for a button which resume a paused job.	x	Fortsetzen
messageSysConActivityGuardWrongJob	message for the errors of an activity guard job execution.	The execution information of the job could not be determined.	Die Ausführungsinformation des Jobs konnte nicht ermittelt werden.
